DiscussIT Topic 6: Where is our country headed?

Discuss IT Topic: Over the last week, our country has had growing concerns on immigration bans, border safety, and executive orders that remind us of issues that have been plaguing our country for years. Now that Trump has been elected President, there has been people threatening to blow up the White House, human right protests, and a plethora of other sensitive subject matters that are very compelling to individual groups of people. Why have these issues come up now as we head into a time in which it seems no one is going to be happy with the outcomes? Will this create a split in this country and place citizens against one another when it comes to their views? In your opinion, what other topics are at the forefront of concern? Explain...

Response: Please make sure all grammar, spelling, indentation, and punctuation is correct.

Is that people are mad at Donald because of how is going to build a wall between Mexico and United States. And people aren't happy because how people say he is a bad president and how he shouldn't pick him but why would you pick him and the people who didn't vote shouldn't be mad because they didn't vote for the president. I think it will create a split in the country because how people just hate him for no reason and how they think he will make America worse even more than it is known. It will also place citizens against each other because some people voted for Trump or Clinton and they hate the people who voted for Trump. That there is going to be more terrorist attack to the U.S and that the U.S is going to be more violent.
